Learning from the ACMC cross visit

Helvetas:

- collection center has Local Service providers (LSP) who are technically trained up and play important role;
- provision of Commission for ACMC (1.00Tk/kg from buyers) is effective for sustainability of the AC long run operation;
- set up a complain box in front of Collection center for farmers;

WFP/RIC

- EFSN farmer leaders perform voluntary services to operate the Aggregation Centre which is encouraging;
- AC is used for multi-purpose activities (meetings, trainings for BNFs);
- AC established women friendly space (breast feeding & rest room, electricity and toilet facilities, etc.) in the AC;

In both cases: ACMC members have gained trust of the farmers who as a result send their produce to the ACs.

Recommendations from the Cross Visit participants

- Regular communication among the ACMCs can explore wider range of benefits for both parties;
- Exchanging market price and buyers demand;
- Delivery of produce for gap filling of buyers requirements by any AC;
- Helvetas Shushilan farmers groups can introduce savings accumulation;
- Inclusion of female members / male members in ACMC where applicable;
- Creating option for the non BNFs farmers can increase the supply of produce volume which ultimately can attract the other local buyers/ FFC retailors;
- Collaboration of two ACs may increase the acceptance of the centres in the local community and will bring mutual benefits (technical issues, irrigation facilities and reduce cost for input services).

• Facilitate non-WFP ACs to reach FFC markets inside the camps (contact rika.mitsuhashi@wfp.org for logistic support).
