The FSC partners collectively assisted 333,864 people through food assistance, agriculture and livelihoods based activities. In the North-West region, some urban and peri-urban areas have continued to receive food assistance through the "cash for food" modality (8% of total beneficiaries) while other areas with little to no market access receive assistance in kind. Though the already affected population continue to stretch their coping strategies negatively especially with the COVID-19 impact still lingering on, about 94% of the beneficiaries were supported with food assistance while only 6% received agriculture and or livelihood support like grants for small businesses, farming, poultry and other income generating activities. The food security cluster partners have also been participating to the ongoing HRP 2021 with over 30 projects reviewed by the taskforce taking into account standard, quality and feasibility of projects.
