Dear IPC Practitioners,

Warm greetings from IPC GSU. We are glad to inform you of some great opportunities linked to the IPC learning website. These include newly available IPC e-learning courses, easier access to the IPC online tests for completing or upgrading your IPC Level 1 certification, and a brand new IPC library.

Regarding the IPC E-learning courses, the following learning and refresher opportunities are available:

- Introduction to IPC (available in English, French, Spanish, Portuguese, and Arabic)
- IPC Acute Food Insecurity Classification (available in English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese)
- IPC Chronic Food Insecurity Classification (available in English, French, and Spanish)
- IPC Acute Malnutrition Classification (available in English, French, and Spanish).

Kindly note that these courses are a requirement to attend the virtual IPC level 1 training courses currently being rolled out. These E-learning courses will also guide you in passing the IPC Online tests.

The following IPC online tests are also now accessible in an easier way within the IPC learning website:

- IPC Acute Food Insecurity online test (available in English, French, Spanish, Portuguese, and Arabic)
- IPC Chronic Food Insecurity online test (available in English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese)
- IPC Acute Malnutrition online test (available in English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese)

You can access the online test through this link (you will have to register/sign in before taking the test): https://learning.ipcinfo.org/mod/page/view.php?id=254.

Kindly remember that the online test is a mandatory requirement to achieve your IPC Level 1 Certification and to update your IPC version 2.0 certification to the IPC version 3.0.
We also invite you to visit the IPC learning library here: https://learning.ipcinfo.org/mod/page/view.php?id=255, which provides supporting materials for learning and guidance to IPC Analysts.

Thanks for your continued engagement and willingness to build more capacity on the IPC.

Best regards
