

Welcome to the Session on Gender Mainstreaming in Food Security

June 14, 2021
GiHA and Food Security Sector
Cox's Bazar

Ground Rules

Mute yourself. Please mute your devices during presentations and when you are not speaking, to avoid disturbing your co-participants,

Chat function. Please use the chat function to comment and answer to quiz.

Questions. Please post your questions on the chat box. The questions and comments will be discussed at the end of the session.

Raise Your Hand. During the Open Discussion, use the virtual hand raising option from the meeting platform if you would like to speak and wait for the 'Go ahead signal' from the moderator.

Switch off Video. When you are not speaking, please switch off the video to save the bandwidth of your fellow participants.

Coffee break. As this is a virtual workshop feel free to take tea, coffee or water as you like.

Ice-breaker

আজ আপনার মন
যা বলছে।

What is going on in your heart and mind
today?

Objective of the Session

Initiate discussion on Gender Mainstreaming in Food Security to enhance knowledge base for ensuring gender responsiveness in the sector.

QUIZ

Gender equality means that women, men, boys,
and girls receive the same food in a food distribution

Women are natural nurturers and men are natural leaders

Male	Female
Men are always brave	Women are always shy
Boys don't cry	Only women can give birth
Men earn income	Women tend to the household
Men make the decisions in the household	Women gossip
All farmers are men	The primary responsibility of raising children falls on women
Only men can become leaders	Women breastfeed

Agree or Disagree?

Gender and Food security

Tools to Mainstream Gender

- Gender Tip Sheet- it is a summary of possible key-recommendations, organized by each area of Programme Management Cycle in any programme. It can be used as practical guidance on how to implement gender-responsive programmes.
- Gender with Age Marker - The GAM is a reflective learning tool to encourage thought and discussion of project designers by the people who design and monitor projects and programs. It is a tool that asks users to consider and discuss how gender differences are incorporated and addressed in their project or response plan.

Gender Mainstreaming in food security

Use Gender Tip Sheet Food Security

1. Collect and analyze sex, age and disability disaggregated data (SADDD).
2. Conduct a participatory gender analysis, e.g look into gender roles and power dynamics, decision-making power, access and control over resources, cultural norms and practices, mobility of women and girls and protection/Gender based violence (GBV) risks.
3. Reflect gender analysis in the planning using SADDD, consult with women, men, girls, boys, and other at-risk groups (LGBTQI, elderly, persons with disabilities, etc) to design these activities to ensure they meet their needs.

See more click here

Humanitarian Programme Cycle

